Foreword

We have had the chance during the past four years, to acquire knowledge which should enable us to make our place in society. The public school system, one of the best in the world, has been a training ground for some of the greatest figures of the 20th century. They received the same type of education as we, and with that public-school background as a tool carved out niches for themselves in history.

One such man was Winston Churchill. He was a man on whom superlatives would have been wasted. He was the most complete man the last two centuries has produced. As an athlete, he was one of the top-seeded polo players in the British Empire; as an artist, he gave one of the greatest one-man shows London has ever seen; as a writer, he won a Nobel Prize; as a foot-soldier, he won many meritorious commendations; as First Lord of the Admiralty, he originated the concept of tank warfare; as the Prime Minister who promised his electorate "blood, sweat, and tears", he was the bulwark who held up the entire Western World and as a man, he was a constant inspiration to all.

We cannot hope to be Churchills, but we can strive to have his unbreakable spirit. Through adversities that would have broken near great men, Winston Churchill rose to be one of the greatest men of this or any other century.

History of East High School

A great Greek philosopher once said, "Know thyself," meaning that we should know all that we can about ourselves. Likewise, we should know all that we can about our school.

East's history began in 1926 when J. W. Smith, as the first principal, opened the doors to a new student body. E. E. Fell took over as principal in 1948 and was succeeded by B. Honey in 1956.

Standing on a fourteen acre site, this prominent brick building has since become a landmark. Construction of a new wing was completed in 1954.

Containing more than three score classrooms, it can comfortably accommodate more than 1,800 students. Its auditorium, one of the largest in the area, seats 1,250 and supports a faculty of 85 teachers and an 18 member custodial staff.

James P. Griffith — Senior Boys Counselor

A servant of the people aptly describes James P. Griffith who has dedicated his life to the public. Receiving his B.A. from Muskingum, he became principal of New Harrisburg High School before coming to East in 1927. After passing his Bar Exams in 1930, he became Senior Dean of boys.

His public service did not stop there however, "J.P.", as he is known to his friends, was elected to terms of the Boardman Board of Trustees and the Township Zoning Board and has been president of both Youngstown Education Association and the Associated Neighborhood Centers. He also served two terms as State Senator and was an elected delegate to the Republican National Convention.

In addition, he found time to serve as manager of the Electrical Contractors Association and to co-author Ohio—The State and Its Government which has gone through four printings and has become the standard supplementary text in numerous colleges and high schools.

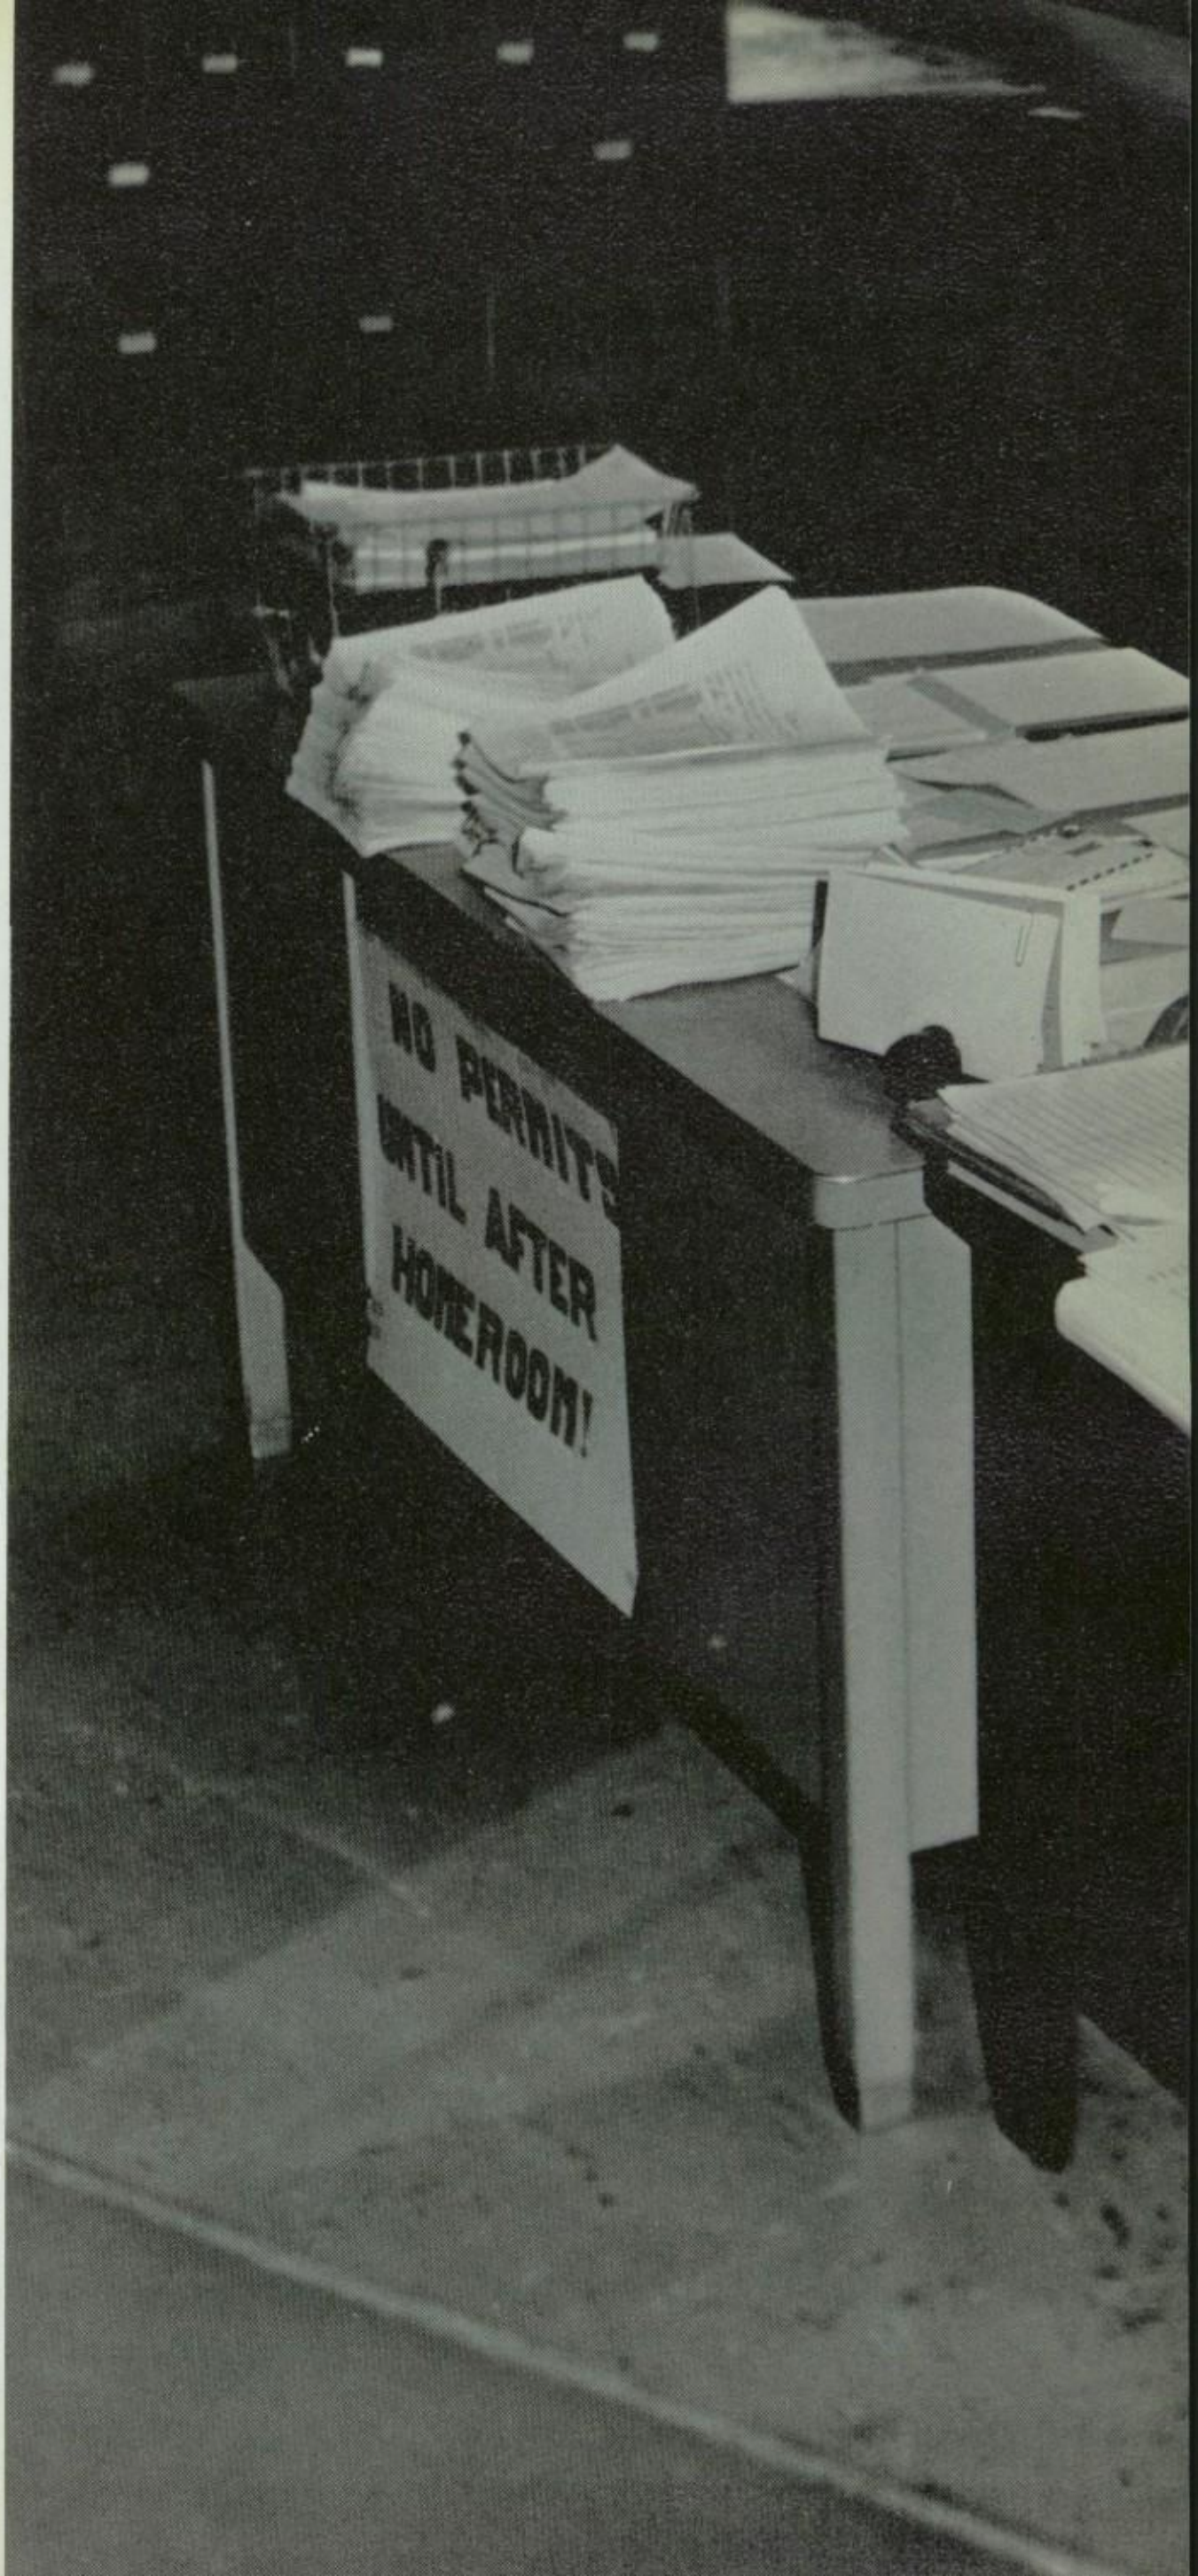
It has been said that no one is indispensable, but J.P. is the exception. A friend to thousands of boys and to his co-workers, he has always been ready to listen, to answer a question, and to help someone in trouble. As advisor to the Key Club, he has been a constant inspiration to the membership, providing a stabilizing influence to projects and giving the officers the benefit of his sound judgement.

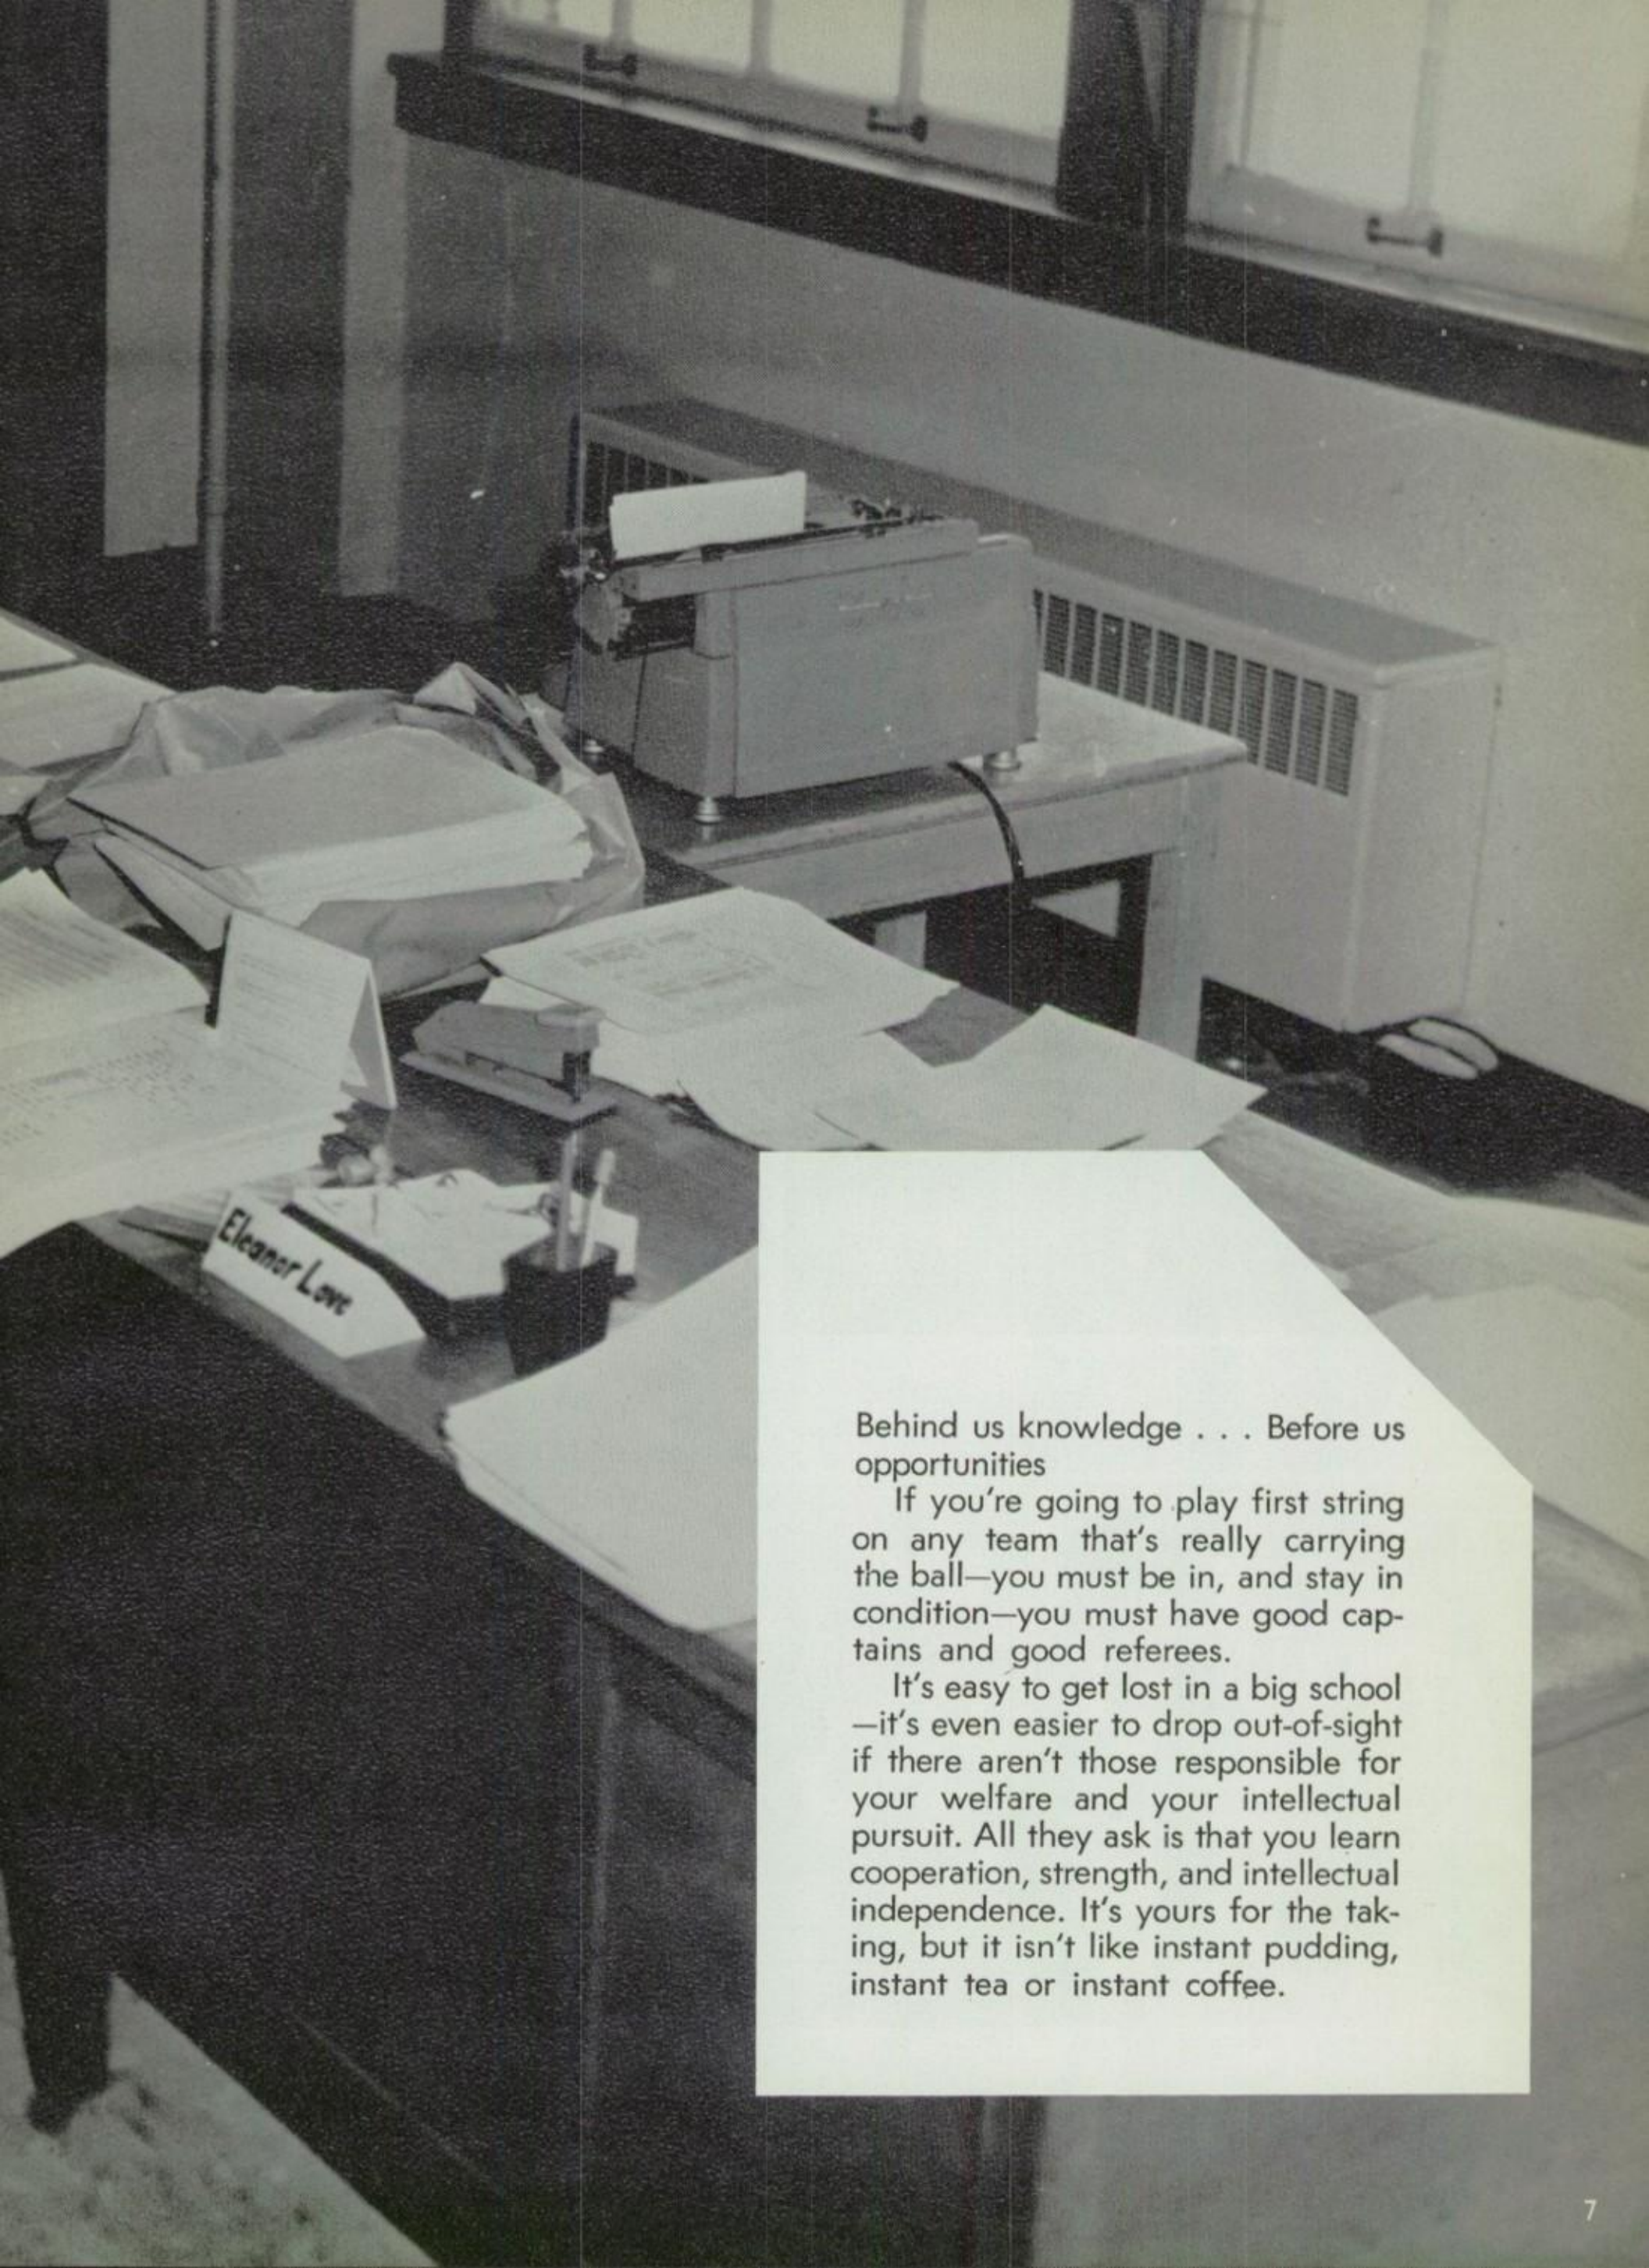
Ending his thirty-eight years of high-school, he will devote his time to teaching Social Science 101 at Youngstown University, and serve as legal counsel in a limited capacity.

"You ask me 'why I like him' nay, I cannot; nay I would not say—all that he came to give, he gave and went again."

E. Lucas—L. Johnson

ADMINISTRATION



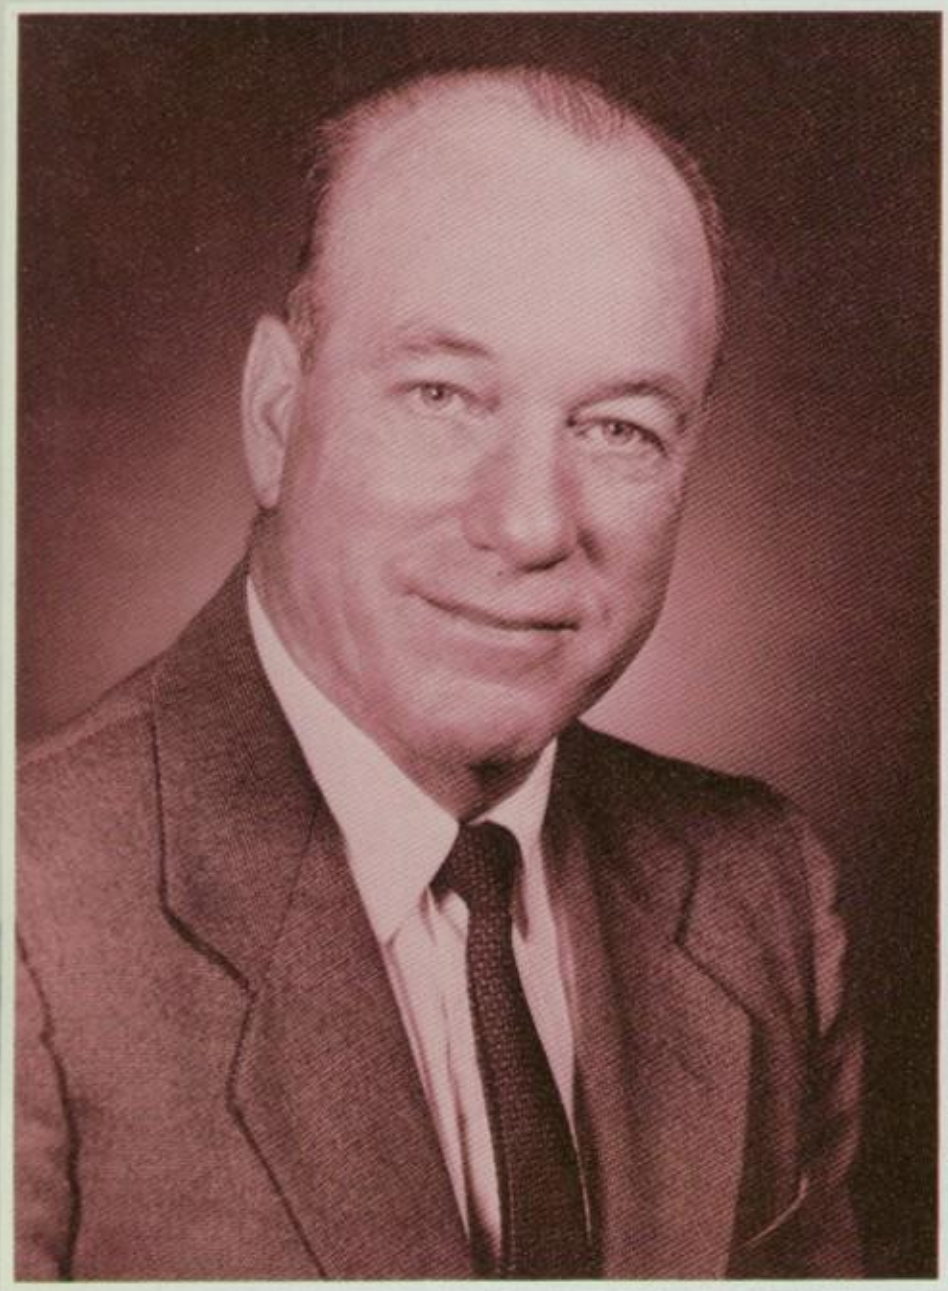


Behind us knowledge . . . Before us opportunities

If you're going to play first string on any team that's really carrying the ball—you must be in, and stay in condition—you must have good captains and good referees.

It's easy to get lost in a big school—it's even easier to drop out-of-sight if there aren't those responsible for your welfare and your intellectual pursuit. All they ask is that you learn cooperation, strength, and intellectual independence. It's yours for the taking, but it isn't like instant pudding, instant tea or instant coffee.

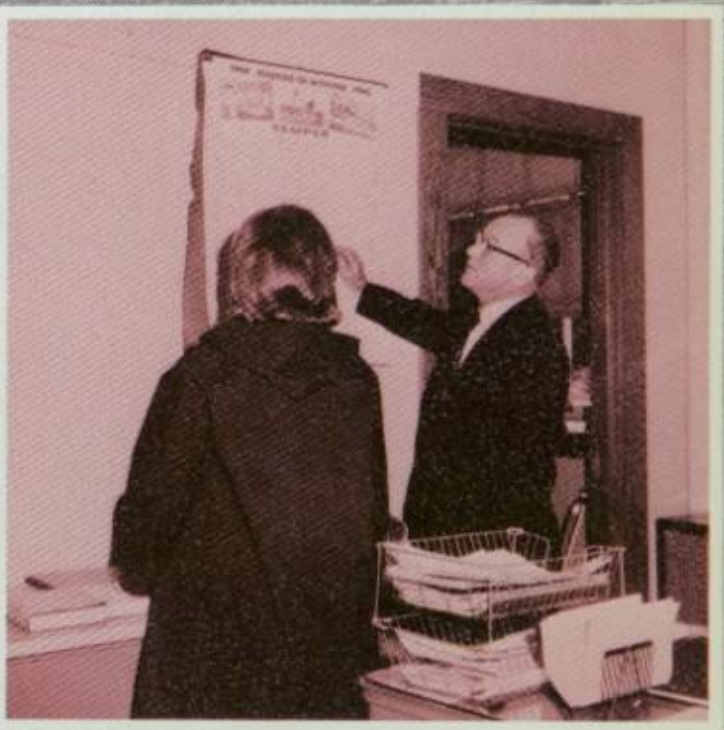
The Men



BURTON HONEY
Principal

When many consolidate to further the practice of education, a sound hand is essential to maintain a steady course. Burton Honey, principal, being an alumnus of East High, is adequately appraised as to the school's needs and deficiencies.

He received his A.B. at Heidelberg University, his M.E. at Kent State University, did graduate work at the University of Pittsburg, and was assistant principal under E. E. Fell, whom he succeeded.



on Top — E.H.S.

JOSEPH ZEMBA

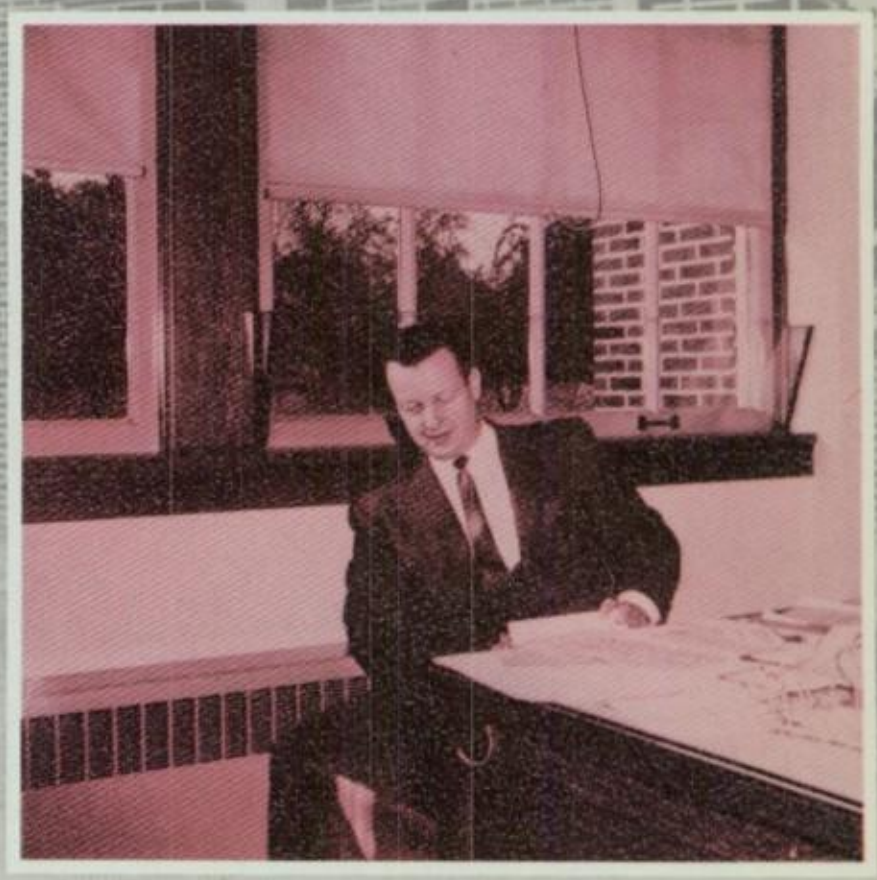
Performing many services for the senior high student is Joseph Zemba, who has been assistant senior high principal for the last two years. His various duties include checking morning and afternoon absences, supervising student registration and enrollment, and maintaining school discipline.

Mr. Zemba received his B.S. at Youngstown University after which he did post-graduate work at Westminster College earning an M.S. degree.

MERLE ROSELLE
Junior High Principal

Merle Roselle, a graduate of West Virginia Wesleyan and Kent State where he earned his B.S. and M.E. degrees respectively, has been Jr. High Principal for two years.

Prior to coming to East, Mr. Roselle was one of the most respected basketball coaches in this area. His South High teams ran up an impressive record in City Series and tournaments.



They Guide Us to Tomorrow

JAMES P. GRIFFITH
SENIOR HIGH BOYS' COUNSELOR

"J. P." as he is known to his friends, fits the definition of a "swell guy". He has earned the title by his work as Senior Boys Guidance Counselor, scholarship-test proctor, and Key Club Advisor.

An alumnus of Muskingum University where he obtained his B.A., he went on to earn an M.E. at the University of Pittsburgh and an L.L.B. at Youngstown University.

RUTH HIGLEY
SENIOR HIGH GIRLS' COUNSELOR

"Get the job done" aptly describes the manner in which Ruth Higley discharges her office of Senior Girls counselor. In her unassuming way she is responsible for obtaining hundreds of scholarships for seniors.

She takes great pride in being a graduate of the University of Wisconsin where she earned her B.A. and M.A. degrees.

RAY ROBISON
JUNIOR HIGH BOYS' COUNSELOR

Faced with the duty of guiding students in their early years at East, Ray Robison, Junior High Boys Counselor, through tests and individual interviews, councils students as to whether they should take academic or vocational work

Mr. Robison, former teacher and basketball coach, did his undergraduate work at Ohio State University, and received his M.S. from Westminster College.

MOLLY PAPPAS
JUNIOR HIGH GIRLS' COUNSELOR

Molly Pappas, Junior High Girls' Counselor, has the responsibility of administering interest and ability tests, dealing with personal problems of junior high girls, and helping to prepare them for future school work.

Miss Pappas, a graduate of Akron University was a seventh grade core teacher before becoming counselor four years ago.

"Public education has one objective, one important job—to help create healthy humans, constructive contributing humans, who can live well within themselves and who will be able to live well with all others around them.

Education is fundamentally a human process—done by humans, to humans and for humans."

Behind us knowledge . . . before us opportunities . . .

How do we thank our teachers? We're not quite sure. Sometimes we've been appreciative, many times we haven't. We've needed proding, wasted energy, dawdled away time, ignored advice, resented discipline, manufactured excuses, failed to listen, disobeyed authority, and failed in our duty to develop. Yet, we know that you tried, that you know from experience what is best for us —that America can't exist without you to encourage inquiring minds, fire burning desires and prompt self discipline.

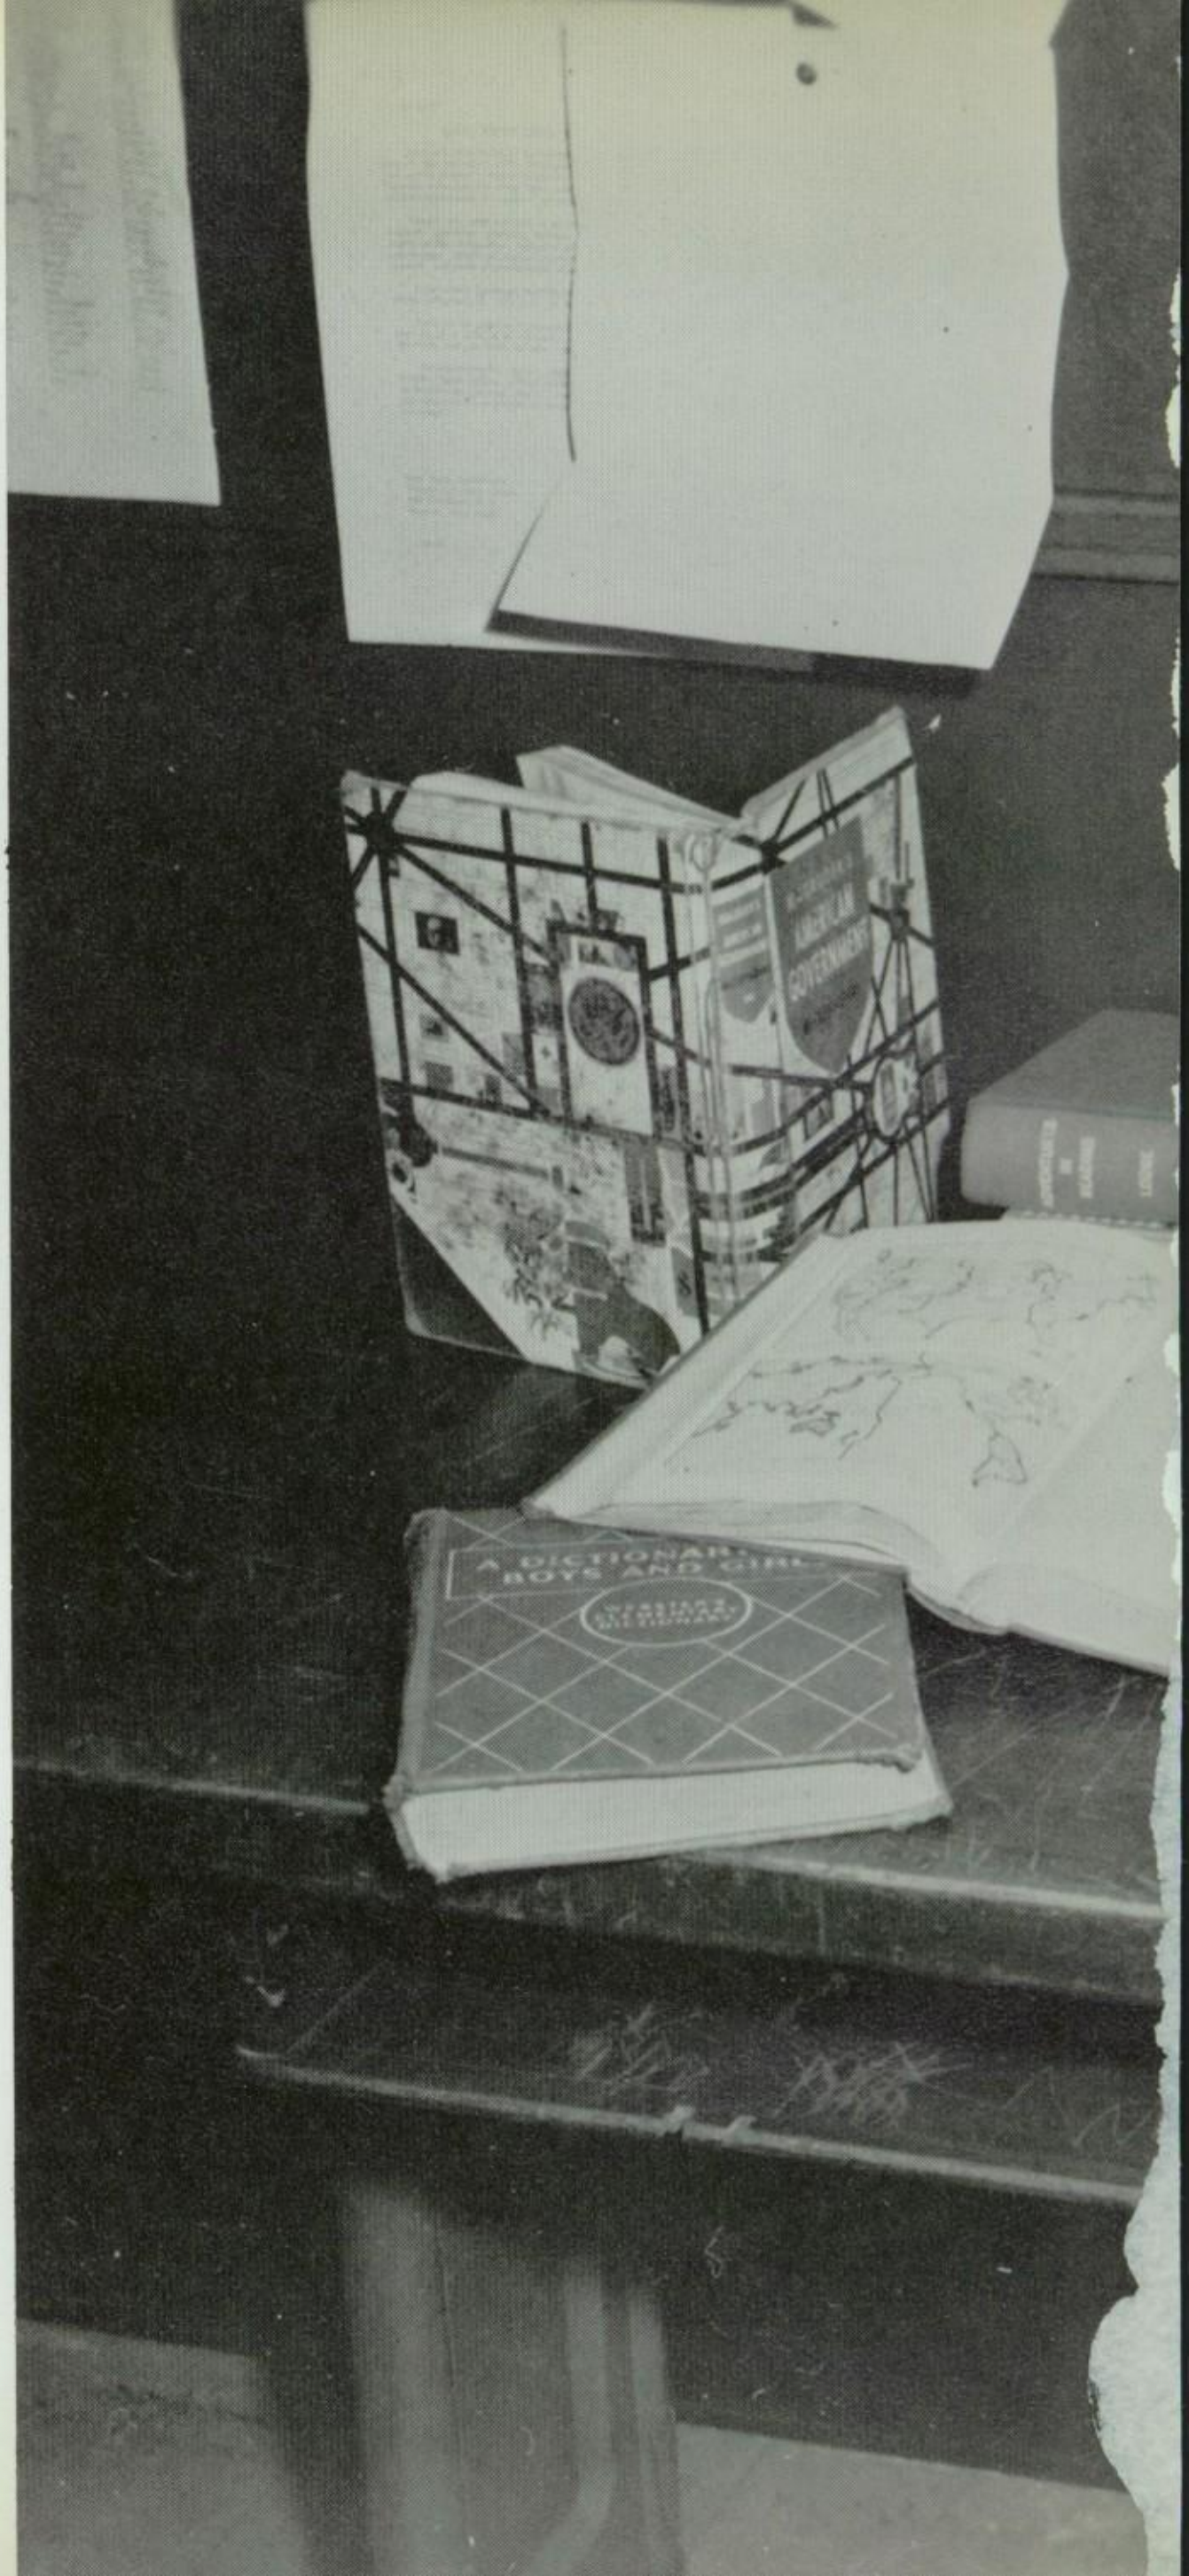
UNDERCLASSMEN



Behind us knowledge . . . before us opportunities

"It's not how long we live, but just how well and what we are, not words, but actions tell."

"Good habits are learned by doing. So it is with communication. Students must know early that communication is a two-way street in which everyone sends and receives words. Communication takes speakers and listeners, writers and readers, participants and observers. Each person must fulfill all these roles at one time or another."

SPORTS

Behind us knowledge . . . Before us opportunities . . .

Many have had the pleasure of participating in some sport and none was made any less a person through his experience. Sports bring out the competitiveness in man and give him experience in working with his fellow men.

"Nowhere in the world is the spirit of brotherhood more exemplified than on the athletic field."

They came in August; they worked through September, October, and November to reach a goal.

R. Sandine, C. Stephanick, R. Ickert

Although getting off to a blazing start, the Golden Bears faltered in the early part of their "64" grid campaign. Failure to convert extra points cost a reverse decision on three occasions. Coach E. DiGregorio and his staff will lose eight out of eleven starters due to graduation.

Escorts for the Dads: R. Feraraccio, B. Balog, A. Wagner, J. Clarke, P. Leone, S. Bersling

Our fourteenth Annual Homecoming and Dads' Night was highlighted at half-time with the crowning of our queen by Ed DeMain.

Dorothy, wearing a gold mohair suit and a crown of gold leaves, berries, and fruits, carried a bouquet of yellow and white mums, and was escorted by Leslie Johnson.

Her attendants, Nancy Paris, Patty Williams, Janet Kowal, and Marlene Martin carried similar bouquets of yellow mums with blue streamers.

After circling the field in three 1964 convertibles, the queen and her court viewed the remainder of the game from a platform decorated in blue and gold.

Dads of football players, seated on the side lines, helped to cheer their boys to a come-from-behind Homecoming Victory.

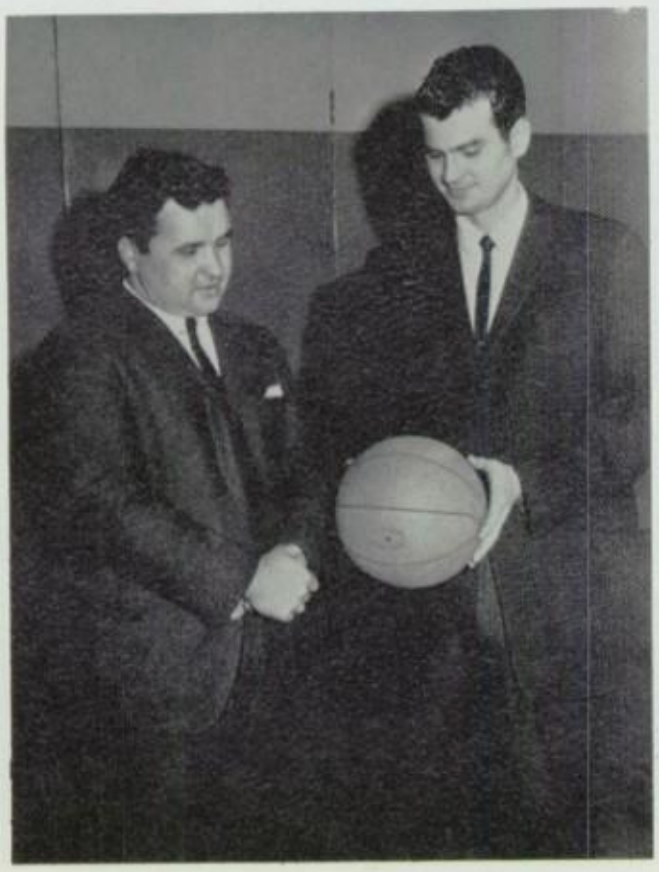
Coaches: M. Yohman and L. Rivello



Under the direction of Coach Lou Rivello, the "Varsity Five" garnered a second place tie with Rayen for the 1964-65 City Series basketball race. The season was highlighted by a decisive 62-45 victory over "City Champs" Chaney. The Goldies displayed a fine season mark of 15-5. The state crown was then the goal lying ahead for the Bears, but after successfully canning East Palestine 56-30, they were defeated by rival South 61-55.

Congratulations to Mr. Rivello and Mr. Yohman on a very fine season record.

Graduating seniors: D. Vari, C. DuBose, P. Dunlap, and R. Robinson.

BACK ROW—Coach Yohman, B. Little, W. Lewis, D. Kuzmik, D. Delassandro, A. Bodzak, T. Saadey. Missing: J. Hendrix.

Coach M. Yohman's reserve group, due to lack of experience, closed their season with a not-so-impressive 4-11 mark. The boys, however, showed fine enthusiasm and gave all-out effort through the entire season. Many prospects will be ready for the 1965-66 season.

Coach Ken Brayer's "Rinky Dinks" bestowed more honor on the sports scene at E.H.S. His "diminutive crew", averaging about six feet per man, racked up a fine 9-1 record, which enabled them to claim sole possession of second place in the city race. Their only loss came at the hands of "City Champs" Hillman before a screaming throng in the Cubs' den.

Hats off to Mr. "B", who brought his basketeers all the way from 4-6 in 1964 to this fine record.

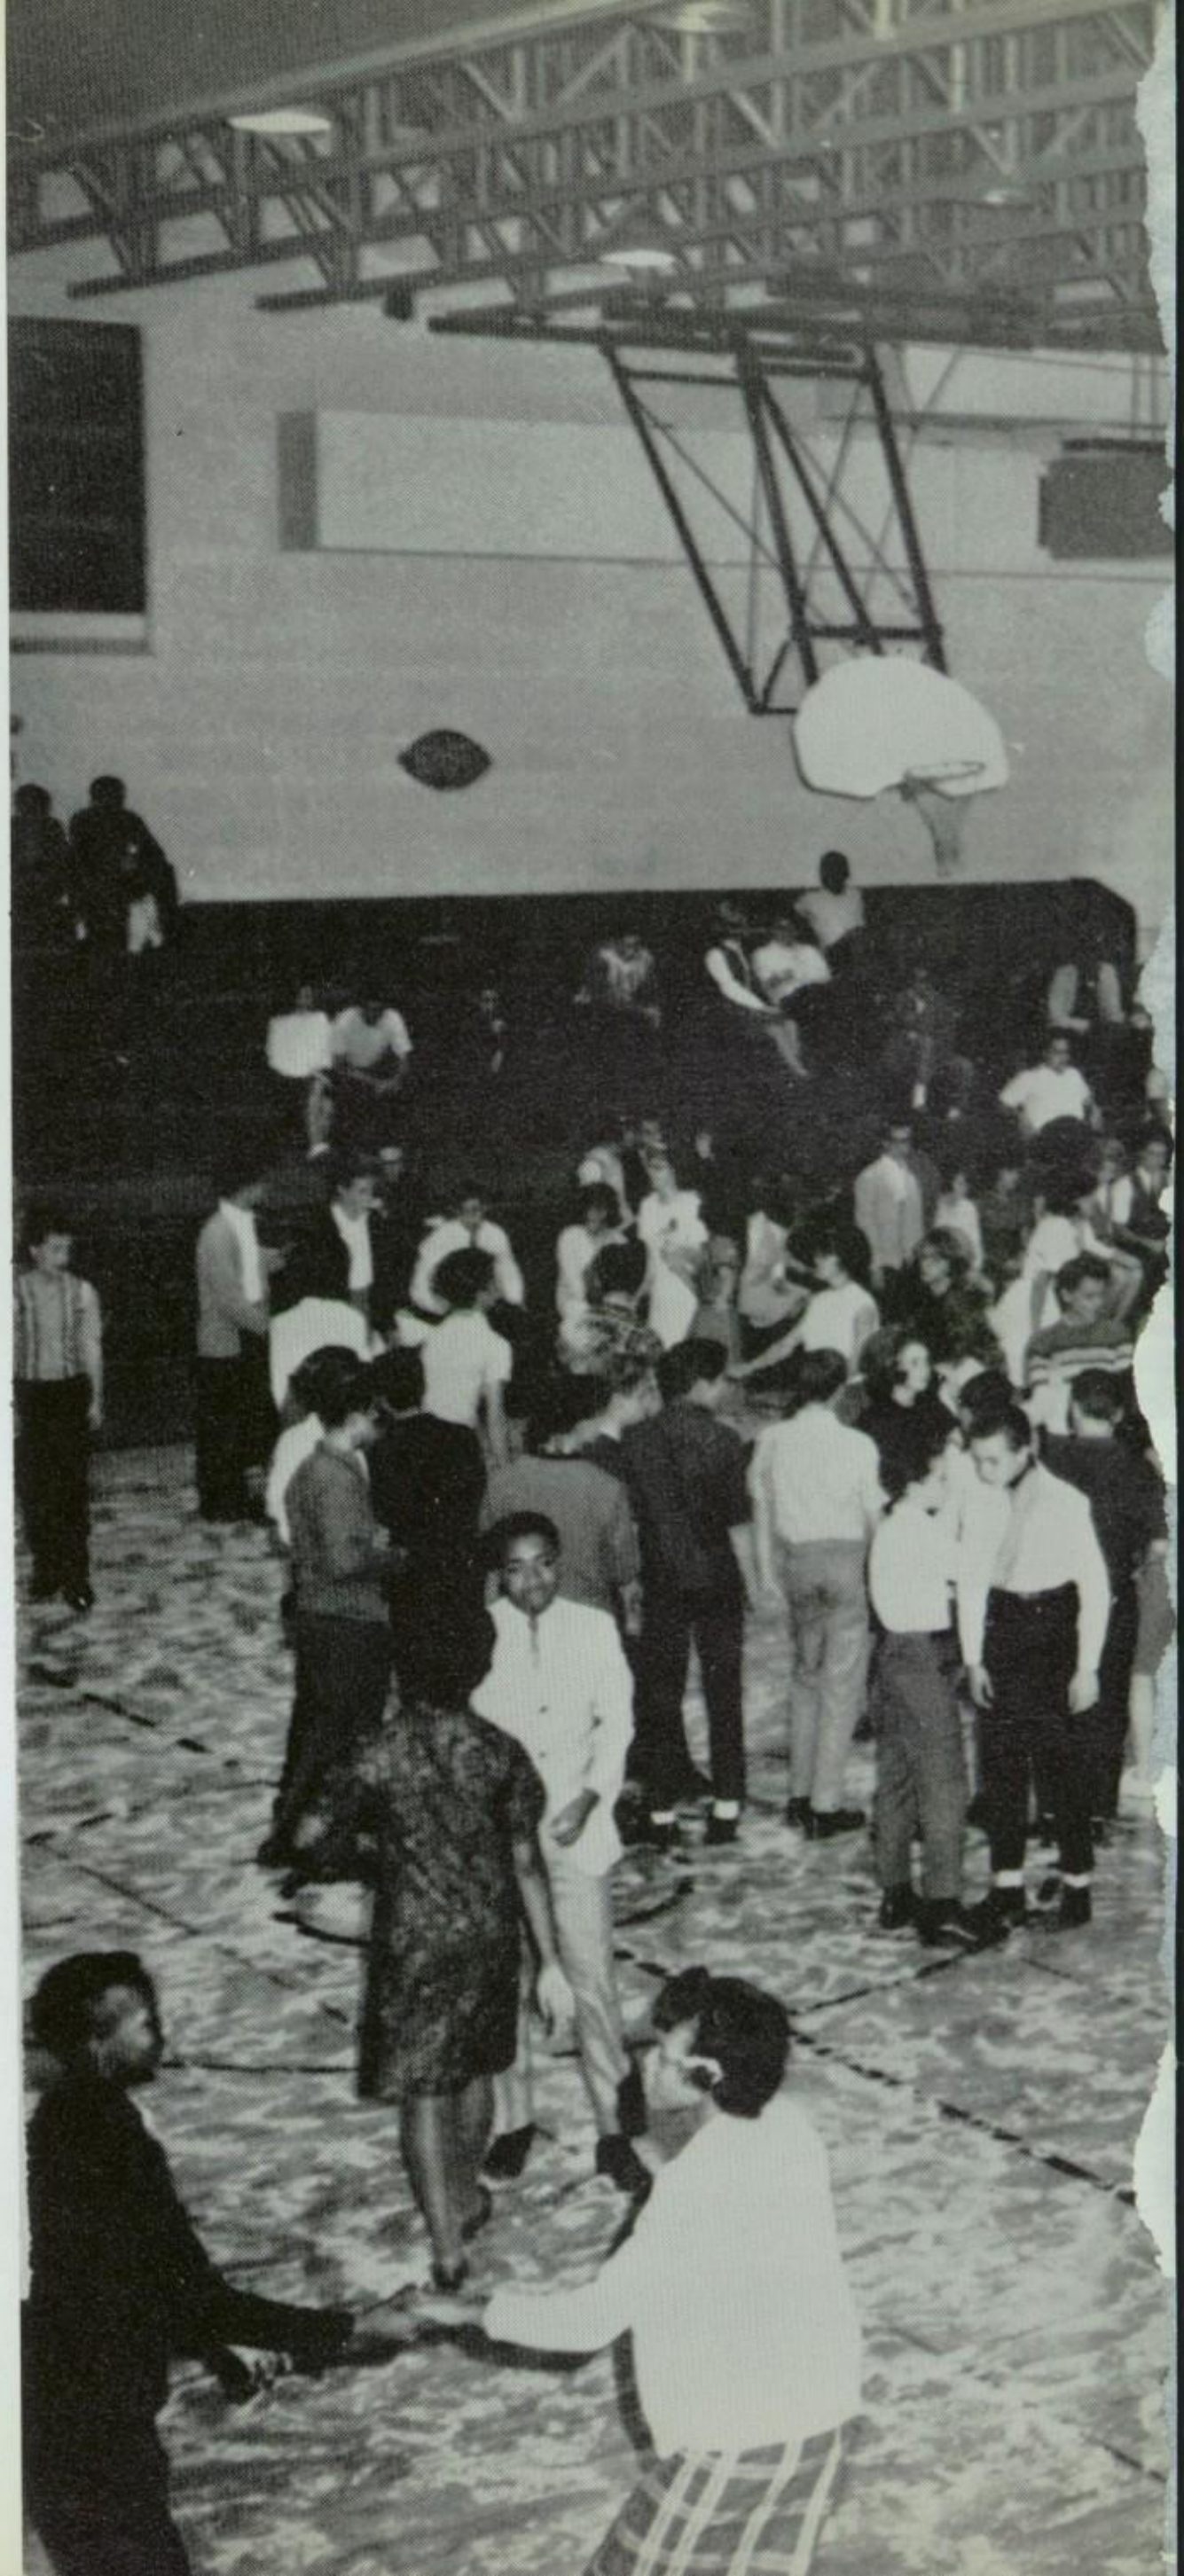
ACTIVITIES



Behind us knowledge . . . Before us opportunities . . .

"True freedom comes through commitment—commitment to people, to ideas, to causes greater than oneself. Freedom lies in being able to choose an area of engagement and intense interest; it cannot be found in aimless hedonism or irresponsible drift. The joys of freedom reside in using one's powers to the full in the service of some worthy enterprise that commands all one's conviction and devotion. We are happiest when we are fully used. Every enduring achievement of mankind is the product of a disciplined mind, and will, and imagination."

In Memoriam

Jerome R. Como Jr. . . . (May 20, 1947—January 14, 1965) . . . Better known to his classmates as Jerry, enrolled at East High in the fall of September, 1961, after eight years of grade school at Immaculate Conception. There he had participated in the Youngstown Parochial football system, playing under John Massaro. After entering high school, however, his interest moved to the field of boxing. This 5'11", 135 pound lad showed many a thrill for local Golden Gloves fans in our area. His goal was to one day be division champ and worked at it constantly, keeping in shape at all times.

Jerry had other interests other than boxing. He was a die-hard Yankee fan and a full blooded Detroit Lions fan. He left with some members of our senior class memories that will not soon be forgotten.

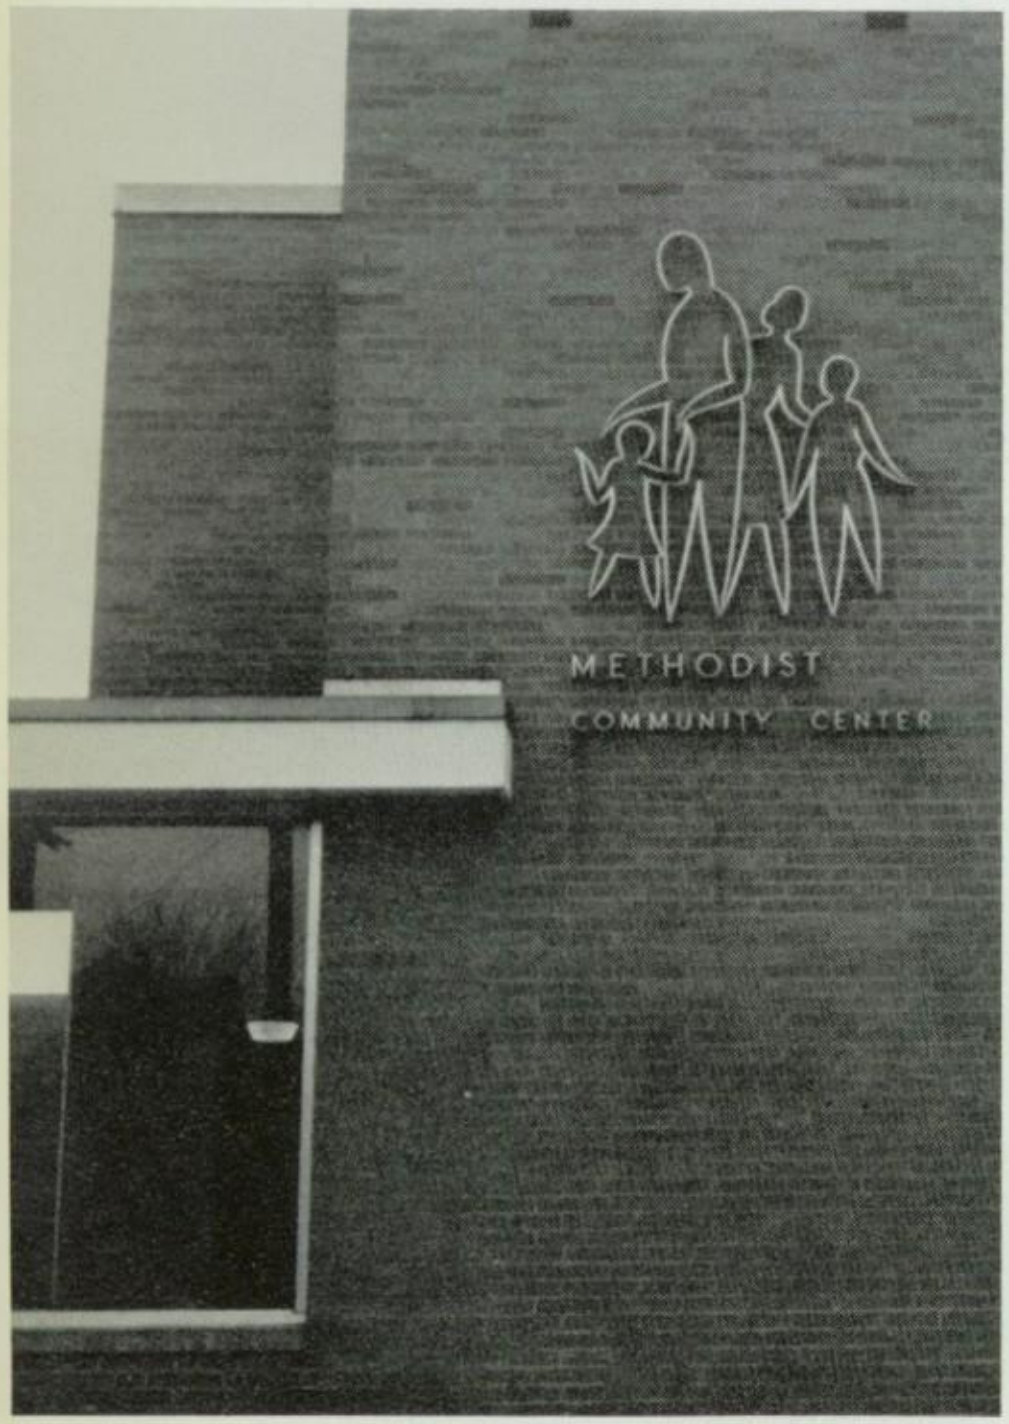
A word about the Methodist Community Center . . . .



The Methodist Community Center comes from deep roots on the East Side of Youngstown. The Center began early in this century as an Italian-speaking mission. The program of the mission expanded, and a neighborhood house was built in 1927.

As the neighborhood grew, so grew the program of the neighborhood house; but many from the mission were absorbed into other churches in the area. In the mid-forties, the congregation was disbanded and the neighborhood house continued using the church building.

Through the inspired leadership of the Youngstown Methodist Union and other dedicated leaders of the Youngstown District, new and expanded facilities were envisioned. New facilities became an actuality with the dedication service on May 17, 1959.

During these many years, more and more people have come to look to The Methodist Community Center for leadership in accomplishing neighborhood goals and in providing much needed recreational and group activities.

The Methodist Church, through these services, has contributed greatly to the moral, ethical and spiritual needs of the people in this area.
